Acknowledgment

This report is the result of collaborative efforts and cooperation from a large number of individuals with diverse backgrounds. We would like to acknowledge their contribution and thankful to them for their generous cooperation, without of which a quality report would not been possible to develop.

The number of people to whom we are grateful for their support is too large to mention by name. Nevertheless, we cannot but acknowledge those individuals who extended unflinching support and contributed to the core elements of the review. Naturally, the staff members of RDRS, Bangladesh, are to be started with. Even before the evaluation was formally commissioned, Md. Abdus Samad, Head of Development Program, Md. Nazrul Gani, Head of administration, KM Rashedul Arafeen, Senior coordinator (Social Development), and General Services patiently introduced the project, explained its various aspects, and provided with a wealth of information. Throughout the evaluation, they continued to extend support in coordination with other stakeholders and particularly in dealing with contingencies that emerged.

It would be unfair, even unethical perhaps, not to mention the Senior Social Development Officers (SSDOs), who never stopped to go the extra mile to enable the evaluation to complete the necessary tasks. We are grateful to the union federation members, local administration, and people's representatives for their kind cooperation and participation in our surveys and discussions.

And finally, our heartfelt gratitude to the community people who are at the center of the project and, by default, the evaluation. Besides, we would heartily acknowledge the tremendous support from the RDRS field operation team from the respective districts; they not only provided all the crucial information for the evaluation, they supported us in every means possible. Without any complaint, they took out time from their long hours of everyday work and traveled to places to join group discussions under inclement weather.
